Speak Into The Tube

A great game for children to have fun with and socialise. A series of eight mouthpieces are connected to one another to create four pairs of 'speaking tubes'. These arranged in an eccentric way which allows us to discover which of our playfellows will reply at the other end. They are usually arranged to form a circle, so that a gathered emplacement is created; but it is possible to create a bespoke design with the 4 couples of connections which is only limited by the maximum distance of 50m between the mouth/ear pieces of each couple. The structure is manufactured from robust stainless steel tubing connected underground using flexible tubing.
